Life goes on. As we continue on this adventure called life, and graduate into another year of highschool, life continues to move on. Regardless of the trials, lessons, or blessings life hands to us time stops for no one. However God stops for each of us. He's never too busy, too tired, or too depressed. He's unchanging. The Master on the Universe is always willing to hear our prayers, our worries, and our hopes. What a comfort to know that in the chaotic movement of life, God is always there.

Indentation

If there is one thing to say about this years'

graduates, it is that we left our mark, or at least made a dent. With a class of 32

seniors, we had a lot of variation when it came to personalities. We were distinct yet unified; different yet similar. The challenges of our class brought excitement to our teacher's days, and gray hairs to their heads.

For the first time in two years our class was not split. Bible, English, and History were shared as an entire class, not in two seperate groups. Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Prusa, and Mrs. G. may have been a little overwhelmed at first, but they learned to love us.

disruptions and all. As seniors looking back,

we see that our class was filled with a variety of personalities and differences. We came to a meeting point in ourlives, and became unified through being a whole class for one final year.

Obligations

Our responsibilities since becoming sophomores doubled, regardless of the fact that we, as a class, didn't grow in size. With harder classes, more activities, less time, and driving just around the corner, we learn to prioritize. Academics grow in importance as the reality of college and life changing decisions readily approaches. Always trying, but sometimes failing, to keep God above all else, we grow in maturity, and prepare ourselves for the world we'll soon face.

Miniature Chaos

2001 is the second year for the Nebraska Christian elementary to be located in Marquette, Nebraska. Because the Marquette public school was not big enough to survive the government standards, they had to close down. The closing down of the public school was beneficial for the N.C. elementary in many ways. The students are all located in one facility which brings more unity throughout the school. They also have larger rooms and more space, which also allows the school to bring in more students. There are a total of 63 elementary students and the school hopes to double over the next few years. The teachers are very grateful for all the donations toward the school to improve the environment and atmosphere for teaching their students. Residents have been very thankful to see the school stay open and prosper. Everyone is thankful that God has given us this facility for a new outreach to local children in this area, and are excited to see what is in store for the years to come.

Chaotic Substitutions

The faculty also had a chaotic year due to a shortage of teachers. Since they were not able to find an English teacher, all the teachers had to work together to cover the classes. Miss Lipke left school in December to get married, leaving us short another teacher. Overall, the staff did a great job of working together to achieve the #1 goal of giving their students a Christian education despite the difficult year.

Exploding. Chaotic Combustion. KABOOM!!!

High hopes led to this year's sports programs. With talent, leadership, and determination in each sport, great things were anticipated. It's through the insanity of sacrificing one's body for the cause that success is achieved. As we struggle to convert the lessons learned on the court to lessons applied to life, we trust God with the outcome. How true it is that winning is only the icing on the cake!

Chaotic UNITY

Unity. That's what freshman Melissa W. said of this year's cross country team, especially with the numerous injuries that occurred. The team had its ups and downs, but still stayed unified. A high point this year was when freshman Nathaniel B. qualified for state and received 21st place. Sophomore Micah J. said, "Throughout the year many injuries occurred, but the team still managed to stay together and be a team and finish with a good season." All in all the team had a good season and gave thanks and glory to God for giving everyone their special abilities and strengths.

Chaotic Expectations

As the season began, the football team was hopeful and expectant of a successful year. After losing their first game to St. Edward, 26-44, their confidence was tested. The Eagles did not give into their doubts and won the next seven games "45-ing" Silver Creek, Milligan/Exeter, and Palmer along the way.

With the help of great senior leadership, the Eagles were destined for success. At this point the state play-offs were in sight, but their loss to High Plains in overtime seemed to shatter all hopes of going to state for the first time in 15 years.

However, the Eagles were chosen as the wildcard and their season progressed. An unexpected surprise awaited them in the semifinals. They were able to play rival St. Edward, redeeming themselves with a 23-20 win. Then came the quarter-finals and a chance to play the number one rated Fall City Sacred Heart. Unfortunately, they were unable to overcome the Irish, but the season remained a success. During the season Mickey Kinney aided the team with his 1,961 yards rushing and tied the state touchdown record of nine in one game. With the help of quarterback Weston Cooper, Scotty McPeak also finished with 748 yards receiving to aid the Eagles. The end record was 8 and 3 and they remain the fourth team in 40 years of NC football history to make it to state.

Chaotic Trepidation

This year's volleyball season brought with it the ups and downs that each of us expected, as well as a new head coach, Jewel Feah. With "vision" as our theme, and our goal, improvement in the face of adversity, we all caught the tremors of great things just within reach.

However, with the change in coaching and many rituals, we couldn't quite grasp our own full potential. Though our record doesn't show a great improvement at 5 and 13, we've taken the first baby steps toward excellence, and hope to pass our vision on to the teams in the years to come.

Chaotic Endurance

Endurance. "Wrestling this year was a good experience for me in the areas of self-control and endurance," says senior Tyler S. With the excellent coaching and leadership of Terry Elge, the boys had a strong season. Along with the great coaching, the team was strengthened with the addition of five new freshmen. The team performed well all season long, preparing fans for a great showing at districts. This season's state qualifiers were Mickey K. at 152 lbs and Ryan G. at 145 lbs. The boys all went as hard as they could and endured the rough practices and matches not only for their personal gain, but for the glory that they were giving to God.

Below: Weston C. keeps his dribble, while looking into the post for a couple of points and an assist.

Chaotic Captivation

The boys basketball team certainly kept us entertained this year. Many fans thought that after their football season, basketball would be a downer, but they were full of surprises, including a 15 and 6 record. Their specialty seemed to be to fall behind, and then break ahead in the last two minutes of the game. Thrilling? Yes! Heart-stopping? YES! Exciting? Indeed! New Head Coach Gordon Thiessen added different ideas and insight in coaching the boys. He found ways to bring their talent to its full potential. New Assistant Coach Frank Rodriguez added his own flare, and they saw the Eagles soaring to great heights. This, along with their heart, hustle, and hard headed determination made the team practically unbreakable.

Chaotic Realization

Girls basketball at NC is a relatively new program, started only in 1988, then was dropped and picked up again later. As with all programs it has had to be built up. The talent has always been there, but drawing it out, and bringing around its full potential has taken some time. This year's team put in the hours, the sweat, and the dedication to have great dreams realized. Work throughout the summer, extra time put in, and the desire to achieve excellence drove our team to come from behind more than once. Though our record of 9 and 11 wasn't what we'd hoped for, the unity of the team was better than ever before. With great leadership in Coaches Paul and Anna McHargue and seniors stepping up to the challenge, we surprised more than one team. The legacy we hope to pass on is that NC girls sports can be serious, and God urges us to compete in such a way that we might win. However, success in this can only be achieved through hard work and great dedication first to our Lord, and then to basketball. "For God did not give us a spirit of timidity, but a spirit of power, of love, and of self-discipline." II Timothy 1:7

Chaotic Acceleration

Nerve racking, adrenaline rushing, stress relieving, are just a few of the words that describe the spring sport TRACK. Many do not seem to enjoy track, but I would have to disagree. Track is a very beneficial sport, not only does it encourage a healthier life style, but it is also a huge character builder. Track puts you through many trials, such as coping with physical injuries, overcoming discouragement, and dealing with the stress of meeting expectations. These difficult trials lead to countless accomplishments, such as setting personal records, qualifying for State, and participating in the Meet of Champions, not to mention the pleasure of accomplishing goals. The N.C. track team has been known for its ability over the past years and by looking at the record boards you can see it. The guys records have been broken in several events. In Spring '00 the girls took home the Conference Gold and plan to obtain it again in Spring '01. As a whole, the track team is looking forward to another successful season.

Chaotic Competition

As the Junior High students began the year, it opened up a totally new side of sports competition.

In the words of seventh grader Ashley S. and eighth grader Tyler S., the best part of competition is winning! Volleyball was a whole new experience for some of the girls. The Junior High boys felt a twinge of disappointment at not being able to play flag football, but soon remembered basketball and wrestling were right around the corner. The teams prepared themselves physically and mentally for the seasons ahead of them. Eighth grader Holly U. states, "The hardest part of basketball is sitting on the bench." After strengthening their bodies and minds, the students pressed on to the last sport of the season, track. Each member of the team strived to excel in their individual events. Through the year the Junior High have felt the chaos of sports life but have united as an organized team, giving all the glory to God.

Cheerleading, homecoming, dorm, student council, chapel, band, yearbook, FCA, choir, and speech; some people may ask what would possess someone to spend hours after school practicing various events, rushing around making hectic deadlines, and getting up hours before the sun rises, just to spend most of the day waiting around. To most, the answer is simple. It's fun. Freshman Kaelee Stone comments of speech, "It's a lot of hard work, it takes up a great deal of time, but you get to meet many different people, it's tons of fun, and it really pays off with a sense of achievement." Above all else, through all the activities, the students keep in mind that all the hard work they do is to glorify God.

conquered them. Through these trials, we grew stronger as a team and stronger in the Lord. A new adventure was preparing to cheer and encourage the players during the state playoffs. ## Chaotic Presentation

Everyone's goal in speech was to place high and to do the absolute best possible. However the one main goal of the speech team was to let the Light of Jesus shine through us. We gave our speeches to glorify God and we were conscientious of our actions, realizing that we were witnesses for Christ to all who surrounded us. Throughout the season, Coach Ferris stressed the importance of practicing and encouraged us in signing up for practice times. It was these practices and the fact that we did it all to glorify God that led to a successful season.

The year started at its regular pace with one exception. Miss Lipke's serious relationship had us checking for a ring daily. As we suspected, the ring came. She would be leaving us at semester to be married. Preparing for her absence, Miss Lipke pushed up deadlines, encouraging us to work fast and hard. This made for a smoother transition for Mrs. Moody. Although she knew nothing about the program and her only experience was from high school, she learned quickly and adjusted well. We all had to adjust to the new transition, but the staff came together and accomplished all of their goals. -Adrienne Stelk

The Scintillation of God's awesome presence and power... Ok time for a quick vocab lesson. (I know, I know...) According to our ABeka vocab book it means "to give off sparks or tiny flashes." What a cool word, huh? Not only is it a huge word that'll make you sound like a genius, but also, what a neat definition! Now take the definition and apply it to missions, your walk with God, or even God Himself...

On their trip to Washington D.C. for a conference, a group of boys from the Community Bible Church interact with a waitress during a break from sessions

WOW! Which brings me back to my original thought: through summer missions we have had unique opportunities to see and be a part of the scintillation of God's awesome presence and power. From Africa to Omaha, Australia to Washington D.C., everywhere we go, people need the spark of the Holy Spirit, and summer missions is one way some of us have had the opportunity to be involved.

Chaotic Happenings

This year's Presidential campaign and election have certainly been chaotic. With Bush and Cheney running on the Republican side, Gore and Liberman running on the Democratic side, and a little Ralph Nader mixed in for the Independents, it made for quite an interesting election. Bush and Gore both pursued their campaigns to the very last second, and we all knew it would be a close race. However, just how close it would come, no one ever imagined. The final decision came down to Florida's 25 electoral votes, and they were decided by the people. Only once before has such a division been seen. The majority was separated by only 500 votes and recounts and legal battles continued until the end of the year. Promises of knowing election outcomes were taken lightly and broken often, so the American people were left with little to believe. It went as far as the Supreme Court and their decisions about the recounts. Finally Gore accepted defeat due to a small margin of votes, and now we have a new President. History has been made.

Questions seem to reign in this world of uncertainty, and problems with the Navy are no different. While refueling in Yemen a US Navy destroyer, the USS Cole, was attacked by one of the small boats that was "helping" to refuel it. The small boat packed with explosives came up beside the American ship and "KABAM!" This explosion blew a 40 foot hole in the side of the USS Cole and took about a dozen lives with it. Questions of: who did this? who's to blame? and where do the authorities even start? seem to govern this tragedy. However, with a few small leads hopefully this mess will soon be understood, in order to prevent further such disasters.

Ever since Christ walked on this earth, and even before, the Israelis and Arabs have been at odds. Throughout history we have seen their unrest. The Bible prophesies that there will no peace between the two people groups until the signing of a seven year peace treaty that will also begin the Tribulation. In the past year we've seen Arab and Israeli leaders gather and come closer than ever to an agreement that would usher in the Tribulation. This has become just one more reminder of how chaotic our world is becoming, and how close the return of Christ may be. We, as Christians, must keep up our shield of prayer in these unsettling times.

In Russia a huge submarine, The Kursk, sunk. One hundred eighteen crewmen went down with the great sub. As the families of these unfortunate men worked through their grief, they demanded to have the bodies of their loved ones brought up from their watery grave. Though the Russian government had promised to do their best, great complications were expected due to the nuclear reactors still on board. Extensive damage done to the hull would also cause difficulties.

A Gift

Denae,

Our "Pretty Precious" gift of love from God is now a beautiful woman filled with a love for God and gifts of laughter, joy, love, giving, and encouraging. We are thankful for the blessing you are.

Congratulations, Denae!

A Joy

Therefore, I urge you walk in a manner worthy of the calling with which you have been called, with all humility, gentleness, patience, bearing with one another in love, keep unity of the Spirit through peace.

Angie:

We can't believe we're actually writing this for "Our Senior." The Ole' cliche is true, "before you know it, she'll be gone." Now we're the ones who tell young parents this, as they nod and smile and pretend to agree.

You were here it seems for such a short period of time and if we had our way, we would hold you here forever. We remember the excitement of going to college as if it were just yesterday. Now we look to take you to fulfill your dreams. As you prepare to do that, remember we love you with all that is within us, a love that cannot be described with just words. Always remember that you have made us very proud. You are a beautiful Christian woman.

Ephesians 1:16-17

Colossians 1: 9-10

For this reason also, since the day we heard of it, we have not ceased to pray for you and to ask that you may be filled with the knowledge of His will in all Spiritual wisdom and understanding, so that you may walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, to please Him in all respects, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God.

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Jamie-

You are God's precious gift to us! You have brought much joy to our home. The childhood ear-to-ear grin that shows in all the pictures has developed into the beautiful smile of a young woman. We have loved watching you grow up. You kept us on the edge of our chairs wondering where the next stitches would need to go, or which bone would break next! Your love for sports has given us delight as we've watched you compete and develop into a great athlete. Your favorite Bible verse reflects your acknowledgment that all your accomplishments are reflections of God's grace. Our desire for you is that you will always "Run to Win" in everything you do, but most importantly in the spiritual race. God bless you, Honey! We love you! We are your greatest fans!

Organized Chaos

Colophon: The 2001 Reflector was published by Waslworth Publishing Company. Our Waslworth sales representative was Greg Adams. Layouts were created and edited using Adobe Page Maker 6.5 on the yearbook computer. Adrienne S. and Denae D. were the editors. Amber R. was the business manager. Proof editor was Stephani D. Advisors were Mrs. Moody and Miss Lipke. The theme was developed by the Journalism class in the fall. Body and captions were typed in Bradden. The "chaos" parts of the headlines were in Earthquake, while the "organized" parts were in Nicole.

Thanks Miss L.!!!

Thank you for all the guidance and the good times in yearbook! We'll miss you!
Corryn

Thanks, Miss L., for all of your help and the fun times! God bless,
Suzanne

Thanks for the fun memories and help you gave us.
May God bless you.

Kaelee Thanks for all the fun times and good food!
We'll miss you!
Ashley

Thanks for all the great times! We'll miss you and our prayers are with you!

Adrienne

Thanks for all your help and hard work.
We had a lot of great times and I miss you.
God bless you now and forever.

Denae

Thank you for your guidance in many areas
and your words of wisdom. May God's hand be on you at all times.

Amber

What will we do without you to help "organize"
our yearbook next year? And how will we get to make food without you here? God bless you as He leads you,
and don't be a stranger!

Steph
